DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1 - 15 are objected to because of the following informalities:

-Consider claim 1, lines 13 – 15, which states the following:

“a clock generating means for clocks necessary for controlling the BTS and the BSM based on time and frequency clocks received from a global positioning system (GPS).”

The above wording is not clear and can easily be misleading to the nature of the claim. Appropriate correction is required.

-Consider claim 4, lines 3 - 4, which states the following phrase:

“.....and ATM cell arrange of the ATM signal adapt handling means.”

The above phrase is unclear and can be misleading to the general public on what is being claimed. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sauer et al (PN: US-6,049,543) in view of the applicant's admitted prior art.

-Consider claim 1, Sauer et al (hereafter Sauer), disclose an apparatus for controlling a base transceiver station in an IMT system (see column 5, line 22 – 25). Sauer explains a system comprising of a plurality of base transceiver stations (BTS), a base station controller, base station management (BSM), and a mobile switching center (MSC). This anticipation is shown in figure 2, item 263; figure 9B, item 5; figure 1B, item 114; figure 7, item 14; and column 5, lines 27 – 36. Sauer discloses a local routing means for interfacing the BTS with the MSC; see figure 1B, item 118. Sauer disclose an apparatus comprising a vocoding means for vocoding voice data received through the local routing means (see figure 4, item 301). A global routing means is also presented for interfacing among the local routers and the BSM (see figure 1B, item 103).

Sauer does not disclose expressly that the prior art utilizes communication with a global positioning system (GPS) and a clock generating means for controlling the BTS and the BSM based on time and frequency clocks received from the GPS. The admitted prior art disclosure teaches (see pages 2 and 3 of the specification; and figure 1, item 27), that of a clock means, which can operate in a manner of controlling the BTS and the BSM based on time, and frequency clocks received from a GPS.

A person of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to employ the admitted prior art disclosure in Sauer, in order to obtain the communication with a GPS component. Coupling the clock means disclosed in the admitted prior art with that of the MSC disclosed in Sauer would provide a means for controlling the BTS and the BSM based on time and frequency clocks received from the GPS. At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, to which the invention pertains, to combine Sauer with Lee's admitted prior art disclosure (figure 1, item 27) to obtain the invention as specified in claim 1.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2 – 15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
